About

I'm organised and efficient, hard working and creative. I have many years experience working within the creative industry. I love working as part of a team, collaborating and bouncing ideas around.

I have a great eye for detail, can manage multiple clients or projects at any one time, both as a designer or a account/project manager.

For the last 12 years I have been running a small design agency in Gateshead, called me & alan.

Work

me & alan: June 2009 - present

Founded me & alan, with the ethos that we could produce great design at affordable prices without being stuffy or pretentious.

My role within me & alan has evolved over the years and covers all aspects of a vibrant design agency.

Being responsible for new business, managing accounts, running projects, meeting clients expectations, delivering great results on time and within budget.

I have the ability to manage my workload across multiple overlapping projects, liaising with clients and designers, whilst also finding the best solutions to any issues that may arise, such as project creep. I am confident while presenting design proposals and can help guide the client when making their decision.

onebestway: 2003 - 2009

Joined as a Junior Designer, responsible for taking client meetings, researching briefs, ideas generation, producing sketches and rendering up finished designs.

This included logos, branding, design for print and front end website design.

I finished in a Senior Designer role, leading a team of junior designers.

After work crack

Normally I can be found on a football pitch, or in a restaurant. I've never missed a penalty or a meal. I'm a keen snowboarder, clay pigeon shooter and I enjoy making charcuterie. I love to travel, to experience new places and cultures. My chopstick skills are excellent.
